We are pleased to be able to participate in this Championship Tournament which is being sponsored again by "Carling Brewery". Each year we endeavour to put forward our best bowlers, so that they may be able to win this honour for our Association. This year we have several new faces in our line up which we feel will put that extra effort needed to win this award.

This year Jim Beasley had the pleasure and thrill of bowling a perfect 450 game. In this picture he is shown with some of the awards presented to him at our third semi annual O'Keefe Bowler of the Month dance and presentation night, held on January 29, 1971. Jim, I am sure will be one of the driving forces behind the Central Ontario's team effort this year.

So win or loose the Executive of Central Ontario Association sends to all Local Association "Best Wishes" for this great event.

- WHAT DOES A BOWLING EXECUTIVE DO -

By

William Graham

Have you ever attended a midget hockey game, and listened to the proud parents telling the coaches how the team should be run. Have you ever listened to the crowd at an N.H.L. Game tell the referee he S---KS? Did you ever stop to consider the feelings of these officials? Multiply what you think their feelings are by at least ten, and you have the feeling of a bowling executive member, who, after very careful and thorough deliberation has proposed an improvement for his league or association, only to have some pipe smoking do nothings stand up and say, I'm AGAINST IT. Then sit down, suck on his pipe, and consider the matter closed. If you think this is stretching the truth, ask any executive member of your league or association.

In over 30 years connection with bowling, many of them in an executive capacity (some of you may even remember me) I have had the privilege of working with many devoted, dedicated men and women, who gave freely of all their spare time for the betterment of bowling, and I am sure I speak for all of them when I say "It was worth it, but never again."

I know that the average bowler's conception of what the members of his executive are supposed to do, is kick down the corner pins that keep standing, tell off the management when they interfere with high jinks on the lanes, bring a clean towel when needed, and make sure that at the end of the season there is plenty of prize money for every one, and that the $3.00 a plate banquet serves a $7.00 meal, after that who cares. Let us seriously consider the tasks in front of your executive at all times, he or she is ever striving to improve conditions under which you bowl, working towards uniformity of all leagues, he works with the manufacturer, as much as he can, to see that equipment is also uniform. For example 20 years ago some bowlers could average 275 in one house, and were lucky to average over 200 in others, with very few exceptions this is not true today. This uniformity was not created by the wave of a magic wand, but, by hard work on the part of a few people, your Executive.

A rule book exists on the rules and regulations of bowling, many changes have taken place in this book since it was first written, each of these changes took hours, days, and even months of discussions by dedicated people, yet I venture to say that 90% of today's bowlers have never read the book, and when something out of the ordinary happens while bowling, ask an Executive Member what to do, and even on those occasions when the executive ruling is unfavourable, cover their lack of knowledge with "Its a stupid rule".

Stop for a moment to consider the amount of organizational work that was necessary to set up the present Ontario Five Pin Bowling Championships, from the leagues through the zones, and consider the time spent in man hours alone, then remember that the people who did most of the work, had to do it in the evening, because just as you and I, they have to earn a living, then the picture of what your executive does will become clearer.

I do not want to give the impression that only the executive knows what is good for bowling, far from it. New executives coming into office learn from the mistakes of those who have gone before, and then proceed to make mistakes which are picked up by those who come after.

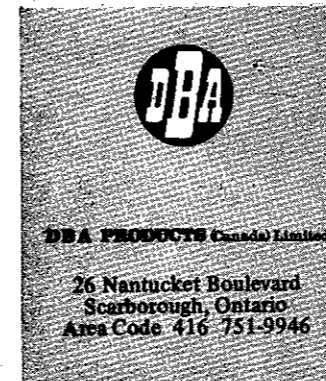

But I do say to you, if you have any constructive ideas to bring forward, don't run around telling everybody. Talk to your Executives, if the idea can be used, they will jump at it, if it cannot be used they will show you why not. If all you want to do is beef, keep it to yourself or take the next elective opening, and do something about it.

Many years ago, a manger of a well known bowling centre told me " Your wasting your time organizing bowlers, if we let them throw Ping Pong Balls at Broomsticks with elastic bands, they would still pay out their money." So let us give thanks to all Executives, past, present and future, of leagues zones and right to the top, that the manager never had a chance to find out.
